

HELLO
Autumn

September 2025

CTLE Newsletter

Fall 2025 AI Webinar Series

Discover how AI can enhance your teaching—and how to use it responsibly—in this 6-part webinar mini-series designed for higher education faculty and staff. Each interactive 30-minute session delivers clear, practical guidance on AI, with expert tips and time for live Q&A.

Session Lineup: Join us Thursdays at 2pm Live on Zoom

Date	Session Title	Presenter
Sept 4	Breakdown of the Faculty AI Use Policy	Amy Harris, MLS
Sept 11	How to Cite AI for Faculty and Students	Dr. Doris Vankampen
Sept 18	Student Guide Breakdown	Dr. Iona Sareiva
Sept 25	AI as a Teaching Assistant	Dr. Valerie Kasper
Oct 2	Prompt Writing for Faculty	Candyce Nelson, MSID
Oct 9	Creating Assessments in the Age of AI	Candyce Nelson, MSID

Teaching Tip: AI vs. Discussion Boards

With AI tools like ChatGPT writing discussion posts in seconds, it might be time to rethink how we assess student engagement. This quick read offers smart ideas for creating AI-resilient assessments that still spark real learning.

Visit: www.scholarlyteacher.com to read more!

Reminder: Faculty Book Club

Meeting Dates:
Sept 23, Oct 7, Oct 21
Time: 3:00 PM
Cost: Free for all participants (book provided)

Sign up using the Microsoft Form via the QR code

Faculty Advisory Board Announcement

We are excited to welcome this year's Faculty Advisory Board members. Their dedication and insight will help guide the CTLE as we continue building meaningful programs and resources. We look forward to a successful year working together.

faculty.saintleo.edu

New for Fall! CTL 240: Assessment Strategies in the Age of AI

AI is transforming how we teach and assess learning. This practical, hands-on course will help you design assessments that either minimize AI use or harness its potential—while keeping student learning and critical thinking at the center.

Register now on the CTLE website!